Community Assessment

Updates 2022

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This document provides updates to the comprehensive 2021 Community Assessment Update that focuses on the northern New Jersey communities where HOPES Community Action Partnership Incorporated (HOPES CAP, Inc.) provides various educational and socioeconomic empowerment services, including Hudson County, Somerset County, and the City of Plainfield in Union County. The purpose of this document is to provide an update to the comprehensive Community Assessment for the entirety of the organization's service area, as required of recipients of Head Start and Community Services Block Grant funding. All data provided is sourced from the United States Census Bureau's 2019 and 2020 American Community Survey (ACS), 5-Year Estimates, unless otherwise cited. As displayed in the data attached to this document, the Community Assessment compares 2019 ACS/2020 ACS data from the United States Census Bureau in order to measure and evaluate demographic, social, economic, and housing trends within the communities served by HOPES.

SUMMARY FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Observations

- Demographic Characteristics of the Service Area

Total Population: The total population of the service area increased slightly from 2019 to 2020. Most towns experienced minor increases or decreases, with the exception of Harrison and Secaucus, which had the most notably increases in terms of percent increase. This trend is consistent with the population increases observed from 2010 to 2019 and detailed in the 2021 Community Assessment. Both Harrison and Secaucus had the largest population increases during that time frame. This is largely due to significant redevelopment occurring within those communities. As further redevelopment is planned for both Harrison and Secaucus, it is likely their populations continue to increase.

Recommendations

Expand Recruitment in Nontraditional Service Areas: In Somerset County, the majority of households in need are concentrated in a small number of communities. This includes Bound Brook, Franklin, North Plainfield, and South Bound Brook, and to a lesser extent, Hillsborough and Manville. However, there are a number of smaller communities and/or historically more affluent communities that are demonstrating a growing need for assistance. The data trends from 2019 to 2020 are showing that Raritan and Watchung in Somerset County are two communities that have a current or future need for support. The populations of Hispanic/Latino residents, single parents, grandparents responsible for their grandchildren, foreign-born residents without citizenship, and/or residents receiving public benefits is growing in both Raritan and Watchung. Communities such as Far Hills, Green Brook, Millstone, Peapack and Gladstone, and Rocky Hill, while smaller, are among the communities with the fastest growing populations in need. HOPES should review outreach strategies to identify gaps in the ability to connect with these communities and locate families in need.

Don't Overlook the Traditional Service Areas: Although there are areas of growing need, especially in Somerset County, the traditional target areas of Bound Brook, Franklin, Hillsborough, Manville, North Plainfield, and South Bound Brook have a significant and growing need for support, particularly among low-income, immigrant, and/or limited English proficient communities. HOPES should review outreach strategies in this primary service area to identify new methods for locating families in need.

Grandparents and Single Parents: There are a growing number of single parents and grandparents responsible for their grandchildren in the service area, especially in Somerset County. HOPES should develop new outreach mechanisms to connect with these communities who are most likely to need affordable child care and other supports.

Assess Capabilities to Connect with Immigrant Populations: There is a growing number of foreign-born residents, foreign-born residents without citizenship, and residents with limited English proficiency throughout the service area. The majority of these individuals originate from Latin American or Asian nations. HOPES should review staffing levels and capabilities to provide services to these populations, including bilingual individuals that are representative of the languages spoken by these immigrant populations newly arrived in the United States.

Develop New Partnerships to Target New Populations: To connect with these new target populations, HOPES should review its existing partnerships and identify new partners that can help facilitate outreach activities. Cultural and ethnic-specific groups, municipal governments, and other local organizations are ideal partners in spreading the word about HOPES programs and services and deepening its connections to the service area.

- Gross Rent as a Percentage of Income

Table 74 shows the number and percent of households where the rent paid exceeds 30% of household income in 2019 and 2020, as well as the total change and percent change over the past year. GRAPI is a technical term for “house poor,” and the higher the concentration of households exceeding 30% GRAPI, the greater need for supportive services or more affordable housing.
